WHY PRONTO XI

High volume, low margin, no room for error

Pronto Xi draws every module from the same live dataset, so operations and finance stay aligned.

THE CHALLENGES

Where distributors lose margin

Inventory inaccuracies

Stock records that do not match the warehouse distort allocation, purchasing and pricing, causing stockouts and lost trust.

Pronto Xi: one live view of stock across all locations.

Manual purchasing and supplier errors

Spreadsheet and email POs lead to missed deliveries, price discrepancies and disputes.

Pronto Xi: automated purchasing and supplier management.

Slow pick-pack-ship

Without directed picking and wave planning, throughput drops and errors rise.

Pronto Xi: directed picking, wave planning and pack-station integration.

No real-time management visibility

Decisions based on last month's figures or instinct are costly.

Pronto Xi: live data on stock, open orders, supplier performance and customer profitability.

THE SOLUTION

Four modules. One live dataset.

01 Real-time inventory and multi-warehouse

Live stock across branches and consignment locations. Bin locations, cycle counting, lot and serial traceability, multiple units of measure, FIFO costing, GTIN barcodes, and automatic suggested POs at reorder points.

02 Automated purchasing and suppliers

Reorder suggestions from demand, lead times and safety stock. Supplier performance, price lists, electronic PO confirmation, EDI and portals for ASNs and invoices, with rule-based approval workflows.

03 Warehouse management and mobile picking

WMS with mobile-directed picking, wave planning, putaway and pack-station integration. RF scanning and Scanpack from receipt to dispatch, plus the Pronto POD App for signatures and photo proof of delivery.

04 Demand forecasting and supply chain planning

Statistical demand modelling and smoothing to support lean inventory and cash flow, with DRP for time-phased replenishment across multi-site networks.
